SUMMARY

JavaScript developer with 5+ years of commercial experience building web applications with React, now working across the full MERN stack. Commercially I own the frontend end to end: choosing the stack, designing the architecture, integrating APIs and taking products to production, including a large CRM for influencer agencies and an online crypto exchange, both built from scratch as the sole frontend developer. On the backend I build REST APIs with Node.js, Express and MongoDB, from auth and data modeling to tests and deployment. Also experienced with Vue and Angular; I use AI coding agents daily to ship faster without cutting corners.
